LOCALETTES.

Farmers are praying for rain in the northern part of the county.
Poor Dallas! It can't even raise a full base ball club—without Kelsey.
Mr. Bishop will again appear as Widow Bedott in the opera-house to-night.
The commissioners' court was in session yesterday and went through the claim docket.
E. R. Wallander and Miss Luverna E. Ferrell have been licensed to marry by the county clerk.
Judge Hood occupied the judge's stand in the district court yesterday, and will remain there throughout the term.
The T. I. Courtwright detective agency is spreading out. It has assigned a man to duty in the Third ward.
The Fort Worth Street Railway company are laying a track on East Fourth street en route to the depot through the Third ward.
Capera Bros. have sued out an attachment against G. Friend for a debt of $30. The affidavit alleges that Friend is about to leave the city.
The ghost will walk on the Denver road to-day. The pay car will leave this city this morning, and the boys all along the line will be happy.
The First National bank of Battle Creek, Mich., brings suit in the county court against J. H. Wheeler and G. W. Jones on two notes for $180 and $90.
The Rayner Cattle company sues J. C. Richardson and M. Harold in the county court for $900 damages through an alleged failure to deliver 100 head of heifers according to contract.
A Mexican, John Beleva by name, was found asleep on the Missouri Pacific track in the southeastern part of the city yesterday morning. He was drunk, and had a big knife concealed about his person.
A telephone message was received in this city yesterday announcing the death of John Bennett in the city of Dallas. He was a partner in the contracting firm of Spahr & Bennett, and was well known in this city.
Deputy Sheriff James Maddox arrested a negro boy yesterday for stealing a diamond ring from Mrs. Montgomery who lives on West First street. The boy at first denied the crime but finally confessed and told where the ring was. He was lodged in jail.
The remains of Tyre Best, the young man who committed suicide in the Pickwick hotel, have been sent to Paint Lick, Ky., in accordance with instructions from F. L. Adams of that place. Mr. Kennedy, manager of the Pickwick, guaranteed the expense of transporting the body.
About one hundred Indians passed through the city last night over the Missouri Pacific en route for the territory. They were of the Tongva tribe from Fort Griffin and were composed of all ages, sexes and conditions. Five car loads of horses and two car loads of federal soldiers preceded them to the same point yesterday morning.
In the district court yesterday Warner Johnson was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for theft of a bale of cotton. Ben Robinson, accused of an assault to murder, pleaded guilty to an aggravated assault and was fined $35 by the jury. The case against Ben Robinson on the charge of horse stealing was dismissed by the state. The jury was dismissed as there will be no more jury cases tried this week.

There was much excitement in the city hall last night over the returns from the Ohio election. The returns were bulletined in the White Elephant saloon and a large crowd gathered to read them as they came in. In the early part of the evening it was found that the state was going Republican and many Democrats went home disgusted at the prospect of Ohio going Republican from ten to fifteen thousand majority.

THEATRICAL ITEMS.

C. B. Bishop's performance gave great satisfaction last night.
E. M. Hall, with Barlow & Wilson's Minstrels, gets the largest salary of all banjo players.
Hughey Dougherty, one of the greatest comedians on the minstrel stage, is with the Barlow & Wilson party.
Widow Bedott for the last time to-night. Those who have not witnessed Mr. Bishop in this comedy will never have another opportunity.
"Standing room only" will very likely be displayed for the first time this season on Friday night. The rush for seats will open to-morrow. Barlow & Wilson are the magnets.
The scenes in which Warde excels are, the first scene in act II, where Virgilus gives his daughter, Virginia, to Icelius, with the words: "Icelius, I do betroth her to thee;" the last scene of act III, which brings the bad news from Rome—the line: "I will be so patient," spoken with an effort to control himself, telling strongly on the audience; the whole scene a masterly mingling of dignity and paternal pathos, and the last scene of the play, where Virgilus throttles Appius Claudius, and sees the imaginary figure of his daughter before him: "Brave girl! Keep thine eye fixed; let it not wink; look on!" Warde deserves a prominence on the American stage, shared by but Booth and Sheridan.

Widow Bedott.

A large audience assembled in the opera-house last night to witness Mr. C. B. Bishop as Widow Bedott. The comedian was in his happiest humor and the house kept in one continuous roar of laughter throughout the performance. Bishop is a great comedian, probably he has no superior on the American stage, and as the eccentric widow his powers are given full rein. Under his management the absurd play is made as amusing as anything to laugh itself hoarse. The universal verdict last night was—Bishop is splendid. The support was good. Mr. Eugene Eberle, as the elder and Tim Crane, was almost as funny as the star. Mr. Charles J. Bishop is a finished young actor, and as Tom Follet was a favorite with the audience. The songs and dances of Miss Kenyan Tilton and Master Charles Renner were a good feature of the performance.
Those who wish to hear the English language murdered in the first degree and enjoy the heartiest laugh of the season should see Bishop as the irrepressible and irresistible Widow Bedott.

The venerable city of Newburyport, Mass., is about to celebrate its quarter-millennial and has selected James Russell Lowell for orator, John G. Whittier for poet and George Lunt for orator for the occasion. All three are descendants of early settlers of the old town of Newbury and Mr. Lunt is a native of the port.
